When two important telephone companies of the Middle West were recently purchased by James S. Brailey of Toledo. Ohio, it was reported and not denied, that the deals were in the interest of the American Telephone & Thesraph Co. It is now announced that J. P. The sumpanies presumably also for J. P. Morgan & Co., and other purchases are in proferees. An unaveidable inference is that this great firm is engaged in promoting a strantic telephone and telegraph combination, with the A. T. & T.-Western Union combling as the nucleus. Mr. Morgan is a very successful promoting and companies are of companier and can command problem. forgan is a very successful promoter and organizer and can command prob-bly a larger amount of capital than other man in the country, not in excepting Mr. Rockefeller.

Under these explicit statements the appointments of Doughan and Cannon were not legal because they did not conform with the rule of three.

The opinion as constructed by the civil service board holds that only those three who, stand highest form the eligible list under the new rule and that whenever that list of three is used there must be a new examina-the eligible list under the new rule and that whenever that list of three is used there must be a new examination and no of the points on which the board has not received sufficient information in the opinion is as to how proceedings must be taken when it is intended to make appointment of several persons to some position at one time. It would seem as if under this construction of the rule as passed that it would block any such action and that separate examinations would have to be held for such appointments.

The construction of the rule of three holding that it affects all lists adds to the complexity of the present situation. There have been appointments in the fire department during the past few months which also might be affected if the men who were appointed did not stand among the three highest running jumper, lectured at the Cl'vet Congregational purpor, lectured at the Cl'vet Congregational proportion on the sate very learnest and the such as passed that it would block any such action and that separate examinations would have to be held for such appointments.

THAT INLAND WATERWAY PROJECT

At various times during the progress of the harbor line contest and after it was ended by a much and justly criticized surrender of all points at issue by the city, the Farmer referred to the project of an inland waterway from Maine to Florida. Possibly, our readers have not as yet realized the great importance of that project, or how greatly the interests of this city are affected thereby, or how very materially the city is injured by the gift to the railroad of some 11 acres of harbor area, valued at $250,000 but really of much greater value to the city-the harbor glut of this week indicating the pressing need of increased rather than decreased anchorage and dockage facilities.

At the recent meeting of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, its president, Congressman J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, delivered an address, extracts from which appear elsewhere in this We commend a perusal of them to those who may have regarded the inland waterway project as a chimera and the product of distempered minds, and especially to those who advocated the throwing away of harbor area which will be urgently needed in the future when Long Island Sound becomes an important part of a Maine-Florida inner waterway.

Mr. Moore explains the scope of the project, proves the actual need of it, shows how it will benefit the entire Atlantic coast and especially New England, and asks for the active support of it as a business plan by business men. He refers to the pressing importunities of the Middle West, West and Pacific coast for similar improvements, and to the unity of their business interests in demanding them, while the East neglects its opportunities and allows its inland waterways to lapse into non-use and deterioration.

In May last, Congress appropriated $100,000 for a survey for a continuous inland waterway along the Atlantic coast and called for a report upon a maximum depth of 25 feet from Boston to Beaufort, N. C., and of 12 feet from Beaufort to Key West. That survey nears completion, but the report may not be finished in time for presentation to the present session of Congress. So it appears that the project is progressing as rapidly as conditions permit, and is not a chimera

"How long are we," asks Mr. Moore, "to contribute to the upbuilding of other sections of the country while we continually overlook our own?" He pleads strongly for an abandonment of the policy of "indifference and lethargy."

If the people of the East are short-sighted in this matter, the rallroads are not, for they are absorbing harbor area and dockage facilities wherever they find the cities indifferent to their own mani-

LUCIUS NORTON TALKS OF SUITS AGAINST LAWYERS

Hartford, Dec. 17.—Just how strong and just what is the connection between the suit for $25,000 brought against Attorney Benedict M. Holden by George, R. "It's a dove-tail," replied Mr. Norton.

After a discussion of various aspects of Mr. Norton's own suit the reporter found occasion to say:

"Well. Mr. Norton, you know, as well as I do, that there is a lot of interest in the fact that this Hodgdon suit has come up in this way, and everyone is wondering whether there is a connection."

Mr. Norton paused a moment and then replied:
